    C#m                          F#m                          B
Mr. Action, the king of misdirection, a master of deception,
                  E
wears his mask so well
    C#m                                F#m              A6/E
Redefining what it means to be an extra on the scene.
     Ebº                                Ab7
He's died a thousand times for you me.

People wonder where he derives his power. Some think he's a charmer
Others think he's the cat's-paw
Always keeps close by, Holds the tower in his eyes
Because he knows that the story never dies.

E                F#m                                                E
Take your bow Mr. Action, There's no question, this one's for you
E                     F#m                                                E
It's been a long time, It's been a wild ride, But you always see it through

Ebm/Gb      C#m                        F#m                   B
    He's a mystic. Oh you know he's cryptic You think you caught a glimpse but you just missed it
Lavender sachet, a little luck along the way
And he knows just how to handle any fate.

An ocarina of ancient blue patina
He plays a song from deep beyond the real world
He says "you'll never know yourself, til you dress like someone else"
Where the eyes behind stories that you tell
